Vol 4.1

Dear Homeschooler/Educator,

We need your help! Here at Piedmont Education Services, we've received many requests by email and phone on ways to make learning more fun and interactive. Many homeschoolers want to make learning more fun for their children but don't exactly know how. So we've decided to meet that need by producing a book of learning games, but we need your help to do it.

Our idea is to make a compilation of various educational games, projects, crafts, ideas, and resources, then provide them to homeschoolers at a minimum cost. This project works much like ladies in a church who submit their recipes and then someone edits and produces a cookbook. Once the cookbook is completed, everyone who contributed a recipe may purchase the book. Our educational "Cookbook" of learning games and fun ideas will be called "Educational Games: Recipes for Fun."

That's where you come in. You and other homeschoolers like you are the "cooks of home school learning" in various subjects. Do you have any fun homeschool games that you think might be of benefit and enjoyable for others? What fun projects have you done as a family? Got any good flash card ideas? How about crafts?

We would like to ask you to submit your favorite educational games, ideas of things you have done or read about to service@pesdirect.com. Then we will compile, arrange and print them in an easy-to-use, engaging format. If you have submitted a learning "recipe" or game, you will receive a discount on the book before we submit it to the general public.

So join in the fun and "cook up" your best educational games, crafts and learning ideas. Just think of all the great ideas that can be collected from homeschoolers across this great nation! All of us at Piedmont Education Services hope you can help and greatly appreciate your input. Let's make learning fun! Submit an Educational Game Idea for Publication

Sincerely,
